Energy Management and Automation Solutions

KiZAN is a trusted advisor for M&A technology challenges.

Client Name: Schneider Electric

Schneider Electric is a Fortune Global 500 multinational organization that specializes in energy management and automation solutions that span hardware, software, and services. With global presence in over 100 countries, Schneider is the undisputed leader in Power Management.

As a dominant market leader, Schneider Electric employs an aggressive merger and acquisition strategy, *with over 40 acquisitions at present**. To avoid data loss, downtime, and costly inefficiency, Schneider Electric trusts KiZAN to seamlessly merge critical technology, environments and systems.

KiZAN has gained the trust of Schneider Electric because we have invested the time and resources to understand not only the technical challenges but also the business outcomes necessary to drive success. Our commitment to their success extends beyond the initial service. Together we have architected a secure long-term strategy and created processes and a framework that ensures the health of their organization.
