We Are Katalyst

Strengthening your business through cybersecurity, data, cloud, and integration solutions

What you face

In an interconnected world, challenges are everywhere for business leaders. Technology creates exciting new opportunities for growth, efficiency, and customer experience. But it also introduces new risks, threats, and turbulence. Cyberattacks cause system downtime, loss of productivity, and lost revenue. Cyberattackers steal intellectual property and hold data for ransom. IT data management is complex and legacy systems leave your company vulnerable to cyber incidents. IT teams are strained and they need reinforcements. There's a lot to unpack for any business trying to stay focused on its mission instead of mischief.

Who we are

We are cybersecurity experts who monitor, detect, and stop cyberattacks to quickly restore systems, data, and production. Katalyst understands that organizations must now view their IT initiatives as investments that create opportunities for improving productivity, generating greater revenues, saving money, or ensuring 24/7 uptime for mission-critical business systems. Katalyst is focused on increasing our clients' competitive advantage with an information technology strategy that aligns with their business goals.
