

Virtual Secretary Assistant app

iPhone, Blackberry

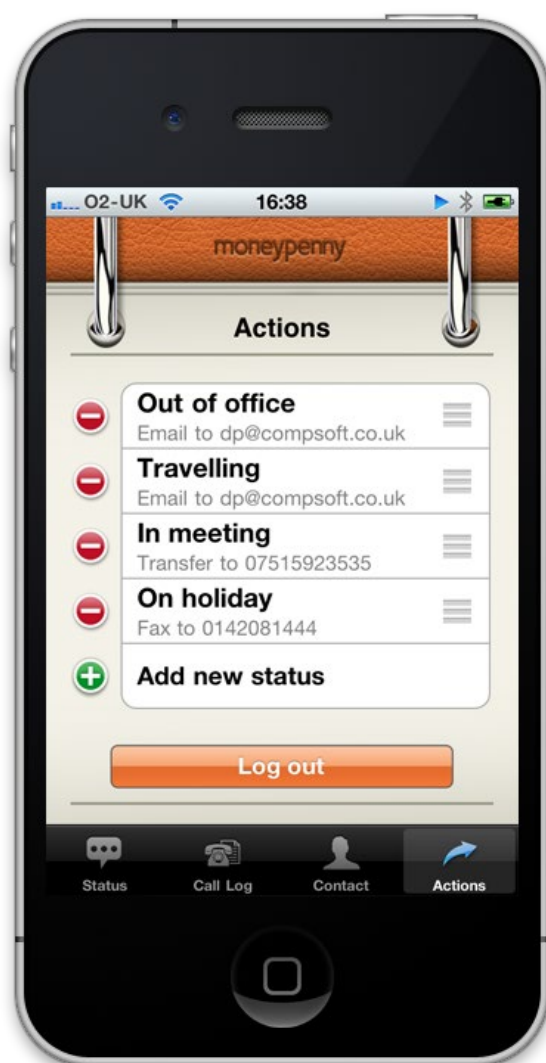

Compsoft delivered business-focussed iPhone and Blackberry apps for use by the customers of Moneypenny. Moneypenny provides personal assistant services to businesses, and a key part of this service is responding to phone calls while key business members are otherwise engaged. The apps complement Moneypenny's innovative service offering, enabling Moneypenny's customers to connect remotely with their own personal assistants at the touch of a screen.

Both apps allow the customer to set their status, using general ones like "in a meeting", or "at lunch", or to define their own status. Users can also set a response type for each status, for example forward to mobile or send SMS. This is making Moneypenny's customer service delivery significantly more efficient, with personal assistants instantly aware of their customers' movements and the expected responses to give in response to forwarded telephone calls.
