

Jenzabar SONIS: Built for Faith-Based Institutions

Jenzabar SONIS is a cloud-based, mobile-ready student information system designed for specialized institutions, including faith-based colleges and universities and theological seminaries. Jenzabar SONIS accommodates the unique needs of faith-based institutions and seminaries and enables departments across campus to improve efficiency.

Jenzabar SONIS brings together admissions, registration, billing, course management, and other administrative functions in a single, intuitive system with a centralized database to seamlessly connect students, faculty, and staff. It also enables institutions to track faculty's commission, licensing, and ordination records.

Advantages

- ▶ Track or segment faculty and students by religious affiliations or denominations.
- ▶ Deliver personalized communications to students based on religious affiliation.
- ▶ Centrally track and manage faculty commission, licensing, and ordination records.
- ▶ Empower dioceses to stay up to date on their sponsored students' academic performance.
- ▶ Allow students and staff to track volunteer and mission work as part of degree requirements.
- ▶ Enable students to report their volunteer or mission service hours and projects through a centralized system.

Features for Faith-Based Institutions & Seminaries

Ministerial Standing

Jenzabar SONIS enables religious institutions to track and segment their student body based on religious affiliations. This enables faculty and staff to tailor communications to religious beliefs without the risk of segregating or offending students.

Sponsor Portal

For religious institutions, Jenzabar SONIS supports a unique portal that allows dioceses to track and monitor the academic performance of their sponsored students. This unique portal is separate from the conventional portal that students use.

Volunteer & Mission Work Tracking

Jenzabar SONIS provides a full view into the accomplishments associated with students' volunteer and mission work. It enables students to report their service hours or projects, and helps students and staff keep track of volunteer or mission work required for a certification or degree.

An SIS for Seminaries and Faith-Based Schools

Jenzabar SONIS connects students, faculty, staff, and administrators through a centralized database. The system allows students to apply online, register for courses, pay bills, conduct degree audits, and more at any time, from any device.
