Are you a Specifying Boss?

ENTER FOR A CHANCE TO WIN!

Are you an American Society of Plumbing Engineers (ASPE) member? Do you look at a plumbing project and think of all different ways you could streamline your configurations? Do your coworkers turn to you for advice on a faster specification process?

If that's a yes to all of the above, then we have a contest for you! Zurn is recognizing one individual who uses technology to improve the specification process in his/her plumbing projects.

Enter at zurn.com/specifieroftheyear and complete the 2020 inSpec Specifier of the Year form. In 500 words or less, tell us why you're a specifying boss with ways you've cut time and steps or improved efficiencies using technology.

Certain restrictions apply. Visit zurn.com/specifieroftheyear to view the complete contest requirements and terms and conditions. Contest runs from July 1, 2020 - August 22, 2020.

What does a Specifying Boss win?

Two (2) tickets to a Las Vegas Raiders game at Allegiant Stadium along with airfare and hotel accommodations.

Eligibility:

- Current ASPE member in good standing
- Must attend the 2020 ASPE Expo in New Orleans, LA on September 14. (waived if event is canceled)
- Specifier with knowledge on technology and how to streamline the specification process for construction product submittals
- Legal resident of the contiguous United States or a resident of the District of Columbia
- Cannot be a Zurn associate, Rexnord or affiliate employee
- Only one submission per person
- No purchase necessary

See website for all requirements.
