- Web browser and device type

Article 5. How long does StriveCloud store personal data

StriveCloud will never store your personal data longer than absolutely necessary to realize the purposes for which your data has been collected. The personal data of a user will be removed after two years of inactivity on our services.

Article 6. Sharing personal data with third parties

StriveCloud will only share your personal data with third parties if you have given StriveCloud consent to do so or if this data is absolutely necessary to be able to deliver our goods and services. StriveCloud closes a processor agreement with companies who process your data to ensure the same level of protection and confidentiality. StriveCloud remains responsible for this processing. In case this happens outside of the European Union in function of a processor agreement, StriveCloud will enforce an equal protection and confidentiality concerning the processing of your personal data.

Article 7. View, modify or remove personal data

You have the right to view, modify or remove your personal data. You can send a request for inspection, correction or removal to legal@strivecloud.io. StriveCloud will respond as quickly as possible, ultimately within 30 days.

To avoid that users make multiple accounts or cheat, external account IDs, e.g. Steam ID, will be stored anonymously after removal of other personal data.

Article 8. Automated decision-making and profiling

StriveCloud only uses automated profiling to provide you with more targeted content, if you have given consent to do so. StriveCloud does not use automated decision-making. You can always give or withdraw your consent in your account settings.

Article 9. Protection

StriveCloud takes the protection of your personal data very seriously and takes appropriate measures to counteract any abuse, loss, unauthorized access, unwanted publication and unauthorized change. If you have the idea that your data is not protected properly or there are indications of abuse, please contact StriveCloud as quickly as possible via legal@strivecloud.io.

StriveCloud has, among others, taken the following measures to protect your personal data:

- Security software, such as a virus scanner and firewall.
- TLS (formerly SSL): StriveCloud sends your data over a secure internet connection. You can see this by the use of 'https' and the icon of a keylock in the address bar.

Article 10. Cookies

A cookie is a small text file that is saved on your computer, tablet or smartphone when you first visit this website.

Which cookies StriveCloud uses:

- Analytical cookies: StriveCloud uses analytical cookies to follow your usage on our digital services. This helps StriveCloud to improve our services and make them more user-friendly.
- LocalStorage: StriveCloud uses LocalStorage to remember your preferences and to ensure you do not have to log in each time you visit one of our digital services.
- Third Party Cookies: Third party cookies are placed by third parties when a user posts an external link via our digital services. StriveCloud does not have access to these cookies, and the organisations that own these cookies have their own privacy policies.

You can unsubscribe yourself from cookies by configuring your browser so it does not save cookies anymore. Additionally you can remove all information that has been saved to your browser through the settings of your browser.

Article 11. Adjustments of the Privacy Policy

StriveCloud is able to modify this Privacy Policy. With every change an announcement will be distributed via our digital services.
