Winning Amazon H2Q

With Amazon's second headquarters up for grabs, Virginia Polytechnic University (Virginia Tech)—and its institutionally related foundation, the Virginia Tech Foundation—were ready. In this Trusteeship magazine article, Christopher Connell, independent journalist, former Associated Press education writer, and author of AGB's Top Strategic Issues for Boards 2020–2021, tells the story of how the university and its foundation played a key role in Northern Virginia winning the nationwide competition for Amazon's second headquarters. From the Board Chair: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion: What's a Board to Do?

The events over the last year have caused many to examine their position in society and their voice in furthering goals of diversity in the organizations they serve. That personal exploration is mirrored by discussions occurring at many colleges and universities, which are now asking: where, exactly, are we in our journey to strengthen diversity, equity, and inclusion? In this Trusteeship magazine article, Elizabeth Hardy Noe, board chair of the Agnes Scott College Board of Trustees explains why all campus constituents—including the board of trustees as the governing body—must be involved as full-fledged participants for this exploration to be truly effective. Time to Re-Assess

"As observers of investment committee behavior for more than 20 years, we have been surprised at how few committees take time to look back, especially after periods of extreme stress, and assess what they could have done differently to achieve better outcomes," offer Nikki Kraus, managing director and global head of client development, and Ken Grossfield, chief administrative officer, at Strategic Investment Group, an AGB sustaining sponsor. In a new AGB blog post, Kraus and Grossfield outline focus areas to help committees take advantage of lessons learned through the COVID-19 crisis and guard against the recurrence of costly mistakes. JDE&I: Building a True Equity Lens for Your Board

Many boards are being asked to guide and support efforts to rectify inequities on their campuses. Boards that foster an equity lens in their composition, structure, and processes are better equipped to address issues related to justice, diversity, equity, and inclusion (JDE&I). Join Carlton Brown, AGB senior consultant and experienced leader of our JDE&I practice area, and Kim Bobby, EdD, AGB Search senior consultant, on Monday, July 26, at 11:00 AM ET for a session that will show board members how to provide exceptional leadership by threading equity through all their work. More AGB Resources to Support Your Board and Institutional Vitality

Assessing the president's path forward.

Strategic leadership is crucial to the long-term success of higher education institutions in a volatile environment. Presidential assessment provides the occasion for a board to deepen its understanding of the president, his or her leadership, and the institution. Assessing a president in order to build stronger performance is a process with three stages: ongoing feedback, annual reviews, and periodic 360 assessment. LEARN MORE→

Experts in higher education executive search.

AGB Search has conducted more than 200 searches for college and university presidents and chancellors. Transition planning and support are essential in preparing these leaders—and the institution—for long-term success. As part of its presidential search process, AGB Search provides transition assistance for up to one year, including a transition plan framework, advice, and counsel to prepare the new leader to take office, and ongoing communication with the new president and board chair.
