Introduction

The purpose of the document is to define the technical support procedures and escalation paths along with providing key Data Storage Corporation (DSC) contact information.

Technical Support

Data Storage Corporation provides 7x24 technical support to our clients for P1 requests on most solutions. Support requests are assigned a unique case number with an automated confirmation email sent to the client contact(s).

Normal Business hours are from Monday to Friday, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Eastern Time*

Please use the following steps to initiate a support request.

1. Severity 1 Support Request

Emergency support requests should be initiated through the main support number:

877-525-4477 option 1 for Service

To expedite service requests, do not call or email Service Team members directly

2. Severity 2 & 3 Support Requests

Standard cases are opened through our Self-Service Portal.

Self-Service Portal: <https://support.datastoragecorp.com/login>.

(Enter your email address to receive a link to continue the case creation process).

For inquiries and updates email support@datastoragecorp.com.

Request responses are handled in accordance with the following Support Matrix.

Support Matrix

Severity	Situation / Example	Targeted First Response	Targeted Resolution
Level 1	Service Down	Within 1-15 Minutes	Within 2 hours
Level 2	Service Request	Within 1-2 hours	Within 8 hours
Level 3	Support Assistance	Next business day	Next business day

Severity Descriptions

Severity Level 1 - Critical Issues, Loss of Service, System Down or Inaccessible

Severity Level 2 - Service Available: Issue may impact performance or redundancy

Severity Level 3 - Low Priority: Service Assistance, Changes or Information Request

Checking your Service Case status

Check the status of a case by logging into our Support Portal

<https://support.datastoragecorp.com/login> , Enter your email address to receive a link to log and search by case number.

The DSC Service Team or the client may update cases with comments or attachments. You will receive an email notification when a new comment or attachment has been added to a case. Upon resolution, you will receive an email providing a final overview, requesting acknowledgment that the case was completed to your satisfaction.

Technical Support Escalation Process

Data Storage Corporation is committed to providing excellent and timely support to our clients. An escalation may be initiated after working through the support process and timelines have not been met.

To escalate a Case, call our main support number: 877-525-4477 option 1 for service. When calling have any relevant case numbers and information available.

If at any point you are not satisfied, you may initiate further escalation by contacting the escalation distribution group: supportescalation@datastoragecorp.com

Exhibit B- Move, Add, Change Request Form (MACR)

Purpose

The purpose of the document is for the client to provide information regarding a move/add or change request to their current solution configuration. Items considered as a move/add or change would include: the addition of a new server or expanding resources, adding, or changing system values, adding, or changing backup sets, adding, or changing network configuration. The request should be initiated via the Client Support Portal and opening a case or contacting your Account Manager.

Procedure

This form must be completed by the client and reviewed by DSC to identify if the request is covered under their current service agreement. Once submitted this will be reviewed by DSC and the client will be notified if there is an additional fee and when the request can be scheduled with technical services.
