

MILLER at WORK

24/7 Dispatch Chairs and Seating

Custom Seating Made to Order

When an ordinary office chair just won't cut it, contact Miller at Work. Dispatch chairs from Miller at Work are ergonomically designed to offer full support 24 hours a day. During a long shift, a comfortable, durable, healthy chair that holds up even under abusive conditions can make a significant difference in employee productivity.

Dispatch seating can be custom designed to accommodate individual seating and comfort preferences. The size, the mechanism, the base, the seatback, the arms, the style, the color—every aspect of each ergonomic task chair can be made to order. Large and tall accommodations are another specialty of Miller at Work. Every individual, no matter their size or job requirements, can have the right size and level of support to do their job with less fatigue and muscle or joint pain. The attention put into every detail, including neck cushions, lumbar support, and memory foam in every chair, is what sets Miller at Work chairs apart from every other dispatch chair on the market.

A Warranty to Beat All Warranties

What good is a chair that claims to be top quality if there's nothing to back it up? All dispatch chairs built by Miller at Work are covered under a 5-10 year warranty. The 24/7 chairs are covered for 5 years, while all other chairs used for a standard a 40-hour week have 10 years of coverage.

Designed and Made in the USA

With no outsourcing and no parts from overseas, Miller at Work builds all dispatch chairs in the USA, right in the heart of High Point, North Carolina, the furniture capital of the world. Every part, from the hardware to the upholstery, comes from a US manufacturer. And they all come together to create quality seating that stands the test of time.
