

Comprehensive, next-gen product security made easy

Protect your consumers, your reputation and your revenue—without packaging changes

FACT: Counterfeiting and diversion plague every industry with global sales stealing trillions of dollars each year... and your brand is not immune. When your products are diverted or faked, consumer safety is jeopardized, and people lose trust in your brand.

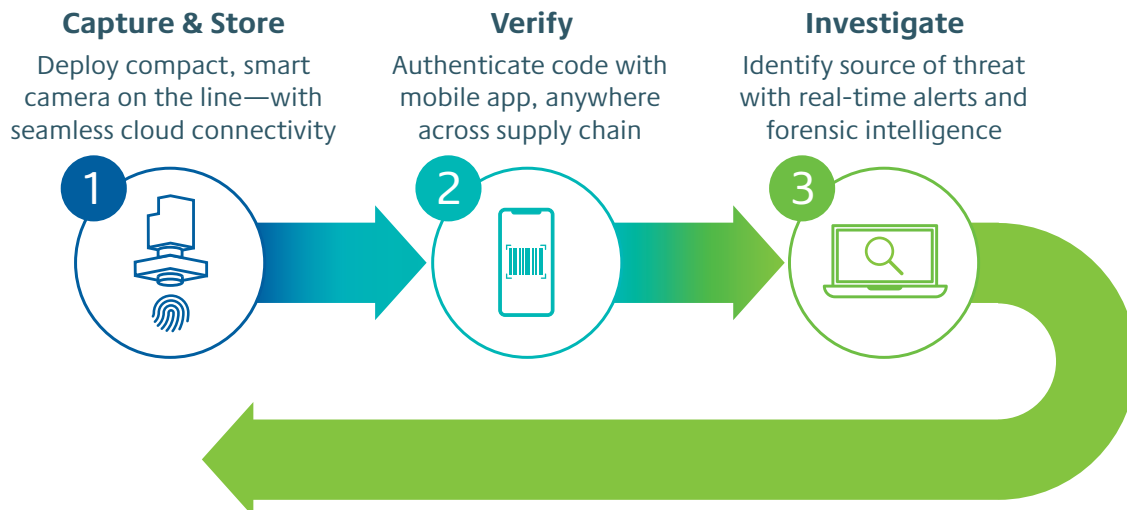

Leverage your existing package codes to take brand protection to the next level!

Detect counterfeiting and diversion—anywhere, instantly

Don't leave your supply chain exposed to threats. Systech makes it easy to protect your products with UniSecure[®], a comprehensive security solution for counterfeit and diversion detection. Using patented AI technology, it turns your existing package code—1D, 2D Data Matrix or QR—into a covert, unique e-Fingerprint[®] that's impossible to duplicate. You can instantly authenticate every product and verify its intended distribution anywhere in the supply chain.

Deploy cost-effective, secure authentication and traceability

A plug-and-play smart camera integrates securely onto your packaging line. The UniSecure mobile app puts the power of product authentication into your hands. Verify authenticity in seconds using a smartphone or industrial device across your distribution network. You get real-time alerts of counterfeiting and diversion threats. Built-in forensic intelligence delivers rapid root cause analysis and gathers data that helps you identify the potential source.

Secure and scalable product security platform

UniSecure® empowers you with visibility and actionable information—from manufacturing through distribution to your consumer.
