LIVE YOUR DREAMS

Our homes are an expression of our true selves and the heart of our everyday activities. They shelter not only our material possessions, but also memories of the good times we share with family, friends and neighbors. Over time, our homes evolve as an expression of our tastes and the activities that fill our days. On the pages that follow, we invite you to explore Cultured Stone veneers and the many ways these unique design elements can help you transform your home into a tangible expression of your dreams.

Cultured Stone manufactured stone, will not only enhance the beauty of your dream home, it will also add value and maintenance-free performance while helping to protect the environment. Whether you choose Cultured Stone for interior design elements, such as fireplaces and kitchen backsplashes, or exterior accents, you can expect the finest quality from the company that has led the industry in innovation for more than 50 years.

Cultured Stone, the Undisputed Manufactured Stone Leader for Half a Century

Cultured Stone began with a vision. In the early 1960s, our founders saw the need for a lightweight stone veneer that captured the beauty of authentic natural stone while being easier, cleaner and faster to install. Combining art with science and innovative manufacturing techniques, they created a stone veneer that went beyond Mother Nature to replicate natural stone and deliver better color consistency.

Our legacy of continuing innovation spans half a century. From our groundbreaking Pre-cast Fireplace Surrounds introduced in the 1970s, to development of Stone Sills and Trim in the 1990s, to our latest cutting-edge LedgeStone products, we are constantly revisiting and reinventing what we offer.

Our technically advanced processes produce the highest quality products and we have one of the world's largest stone manufacturing footprints, which sells globally to North America, Europe, Asia and Australia. We remain an industry leader because of our:

- Authentic stone beauty.
- Revolutionary design.
- Unparalleled craftsmanship.
- Superior quality control.
- Unmatched performance.
- World-class supply system.
- Prompt delivery from our extensive distribution network.
- Ongoing development of cutting-edge products inspired and assisted by architects, builders, designers and master colorists.

When you add it up, it's easy to see why no other company comes close to the heritage of innovation and trust we have built for more than 50 years.

Performance and Value Well Beyond the Surface

What makes Cultured Stone the preferred stone veneer brand? We begin with the highest quality raw materials and implement superior quality control measures in our manufacturing processes. Our 63-point Circle of Quality inspection ensures that our products are consistent from box to box, flat to corner and plant to jobsite. Next, our products undergo stringent testing, which verifies their industry-leading durability, quality, reliability and consistency. Boral Stone Products, LLC, manufacturer of Cultured Stone veneer is one of a small percentage of manufactured stone veneer manufacturers that have an ICC Evaluation Services Report.

You'll appreciate how our products' performance translates into value. Once installed, Cultured Stone veneer is virtually maintenance-free, requiring only an occasional light washing to remove dust and dirt. Our veneers require no painting, coating or sealing and we back them with a 50-year limited warranty*. With more than 21 textures and 100 colors, plus a variety of shapes and sizes from which to choose, Cultured Stone veneers present unlimited opportunities for unique custom looks.

According to a study by an independent research firm, a full Cultured Stone façade increases a home's perceived appraisal value by about 6%*¹ and increases perceived value to the prospective buyer by 10%*².

Thinking and Building Green

Cultured Stone products meet today’s building needs without compromising the world we leave for the future. We have the industry’s only GREENGUARD certified products, demonstrating that they meet the indoor air quality standards of the GREENGUARD Environmental Institute. Our products also meet the GREENGUARD Children’s & Schools standard, which are the most rigorous building emissions criteria. And, Cultured Stone is also an NAHB Green Approved Product.

Our commitment to thinking and building green is at the heart of how we do business. Cultured Stone manufactured stone contains 54% pre-consumer waste stream material – the industry’s highest recycle content. We operate LEAN manufacturing facilities to eliminate waste and protect the health of the environment as well as our employees. Our closed-loop system allows water re-use during manufacturing, contributing to reduced water consumption in our North American plant by 50% per ton of product produced from 2006 through 2009. Since 2009, we have reduced landfill waste by 80% per ton of product produced. Our commitment to environmental responsibility is one further way Cultured Stone adds value to your home.

EXTERIORS

Come Home to Beautiful

There are so many ways Cultured Stone can make an impact, but few are more dramatic than when it's used on the exterior of a home. A Cultured Stone exterior takes a home beyond the ordinary, beyond the expected. It's a graceful and time-tested way to lend charm, character and value to your home.

Whether you want to evoke a specific period, or just boost your curb appeal, there's no better way to make a statement than with Cultured Stone on a home's exterior.

To the Manor Born

Nothing evokes the look and feel of a stately manor house like an elegant stone façade. Whether it's covering the entire structure or used as a strategic design component, Cultured Stone® veneer makes an undeniably dramatic impact on the homes featured here. And it can do the same for yours.

For the grand and timeless look of a manor house, these homes used Country Ledgestone, Old Country Fieldstone and Dressed Fieldstone to create dramatic façades that bring to mind a more genteel way of life.

Put Out the Welcome Mat

The most coveted homes in a neighborhood create a welcoming impression long before you walk in the door. And one of the most dramatic ways to create this impression is with stone veneer.

Using Cultured Stone veneer products in exterior applications helps create what real estate agents refer to as curb appeal, that certain something that makes people stop and look at a home and wish it were their own. Combine it with expert landscaping and dramatic lighting to give neighbors, guests and even total strangers a warm feeling.

What's Your Style?

A rustic villa in Tuscany. A pastoral English cottage. A majestic Colorado ski lodge. As we return from our travels, we recall the many ways stone appears in distinctive local architectural styles. Create your own memories with Cultured Stone.

Stone Veneer Accentuates the Positive

Cultured Stone products are a great way to highlight design details and make sure they're noticed, regardless of the architectural style. From columns to feature walls, even a small amount of stone veneer makes a big impact and leaves a lasting impression.

INTERIORS

Heighten the Drama by Bringing Cultured Stone Indoors

We know that Cultured Stone make a dramatic impact on the exterior of a home. So why not bring it inside for the same effect? This stunning home uses Country Ledgestone on the interior walls to make an undeniably dramatic statement. It's hard to imagine getting the same effect from a painted wall.

Even in relatively small applications like an accent wall or a fireplace surround, Cultured Stone products can make an otherwise uninteresting room or feature into a showstopper. The characteristics of Cultured Stone also make it an ideal solution for remodeling projects.

Make the Most of Your Extra Space

No matter how spacious your home may be, everyone appreciates a little elbow room. If you're thinking about creating a private hideaway, Cultured Stone and Cultured Brick veneers can up the impact. Just look at the sizzle added to the rooms pictured here, making these spaces something special.

FIREPLACES

Gather 'Round the Hearth

Throughout history, fireplaces have served as the gathering place of our homes. The light and warmth of the fire draw us near, serving as the center of celebrations, the focus of family activities and offering the assurance that we are safely home. Some of our happiest childhood memories are centered here: reading stories aloud, waiting for Santa, snuggling up on cold winter nights to toast marshmallows or play games.

A fireplace clad in Cultured Stone can serve as the heart of your home, bringing friends and family together to share the warmth. The Palermo Del Mare Ledgestone® in these photos was used to create a dramatic wall of stone veneer that becomes the focus of a central gathering place, evoking style and substance in this family room.

Turn up the Texture

As we draw near the hearth, we are intrigued by the texture of the stone veneer, tempted to linger, to touch, to bask in the warmth of the fire. No other material offers the depth, the complexity of color and pattern, the tactile distinction of stone. Consider the function of the room, the style of your home and your personal taste as you select the texture that will bring your vision to life.

So Many Styles, So Little Time

Sometimes all it takes to bring a room into focus is exactly the right stone veneer. No other material has the versatility of Cultured Stone products.

Depending on the shape, color and texture of the stone veneer, it's easy to achieve a sleek, modern look or a quaint, country feel, traditional formality or a casual elegance. Any look is possible with the help of stone veneer.

OUTDOOR LIVING

Outdoor Living with Style and Comfort

Lounging in a lawn chair under the midday sun or lying back gazing at the starry summer skies, your own back yard can become an inviting and easily-accessible getaway. Adding a rugged stone fireplace, a dramatic stone veneer wall or a sophisticated outdoor room can expand your living space and make escape even more enticing.

Cultured Stone is perfectly suited for outdoor spaces that reflect the style and ambiance of your home or offer an unexpected contrast to your interior design. And, of course, the strength, texture and inherent beauty of stone veneer are perfectly at home, indoors or out.

Bring the Indoors Out

Who says you can't take interior design outside? Turn a deck or patio into an extension of your home by adding sophisticated touches like a bar, a comfortable seating area and an outdoor fireplace. Install a fire pit surrounded by built-in benches for cozy evenings under the stars. Or why not create an outdoor kitchen complete with a barbecue and expansive work areas? There are any number of Cultured Stone products to help create the perfect outdoor room.

Entertain with Stone Veneer

Stone veneer looks right at home outdoors, and it'll be the center of attention when it appears on a barbecue or a patio fireplace. With a variety of colors and textures mirroring the bounty of nature, there's one that's just right for your backyard project. Rugged or refined, subtle or striking, stone veneer will steal the scene.

Play Up the Drama

Cast Cultured Stone in a starring role as a dramatic design component. Feature your favorites in architectural details like arches, arbors and walls. They're the perfect backdrop for flora and fauna.

COMMERCIAL

Dressed for Success

Consumers have more choices than ever before. So it pays for businesses to create a distinctive visual experience inside and out. Designing with Cultured Stone is one of the best ways to do just that. It lends weight, drama and originality to a retail storefront, a chic dining room or a hotel lobby.

Stone Veneer Speaks Volumes

No other building material can evoke a time and place quite as well as stone veneer. And for commercial applications, it is an excellent tool to have in your design arsenal. Depending on the chosen style, Cultured Stone can create a historical look or one that's purely modern. It can add definition and differentiation to a retail space or restaurant.

Consider the Versatility of Cultured Stone Veneer Products

Different architectural styles denote different times and places. One of the easiest and most effective ways to communicate a specific architectural style is with Cultured Stone veneer stone. Notice how it's used in these photos to communicate a diverse range of styles and regions, from imperial China to a Swiss chalet to a Craftsman bungalow. And that's just the beginning. An Arts and Crafts building brings to mind California in the early 20th century. A Tudor structure calls up images of a cozy English pub. Cultured Stone can help set the stage for just about any time or place, from the Wild West to the Far East.

GETTING STARTED

Realizing your vision for your home might be easier than you think. Whether you’re working with an architect or a designer, hiring an installer, or planning to do it yourself, Cultured Stone manufactured stone veneer is a great way to bring your dreams to life.

Here are some of the things you’ll want to consider as you’re planning your project:

Style

Consider the style, size and surroundings of your home. With so many options, there’s sure to be a Cultured Stone exture and color that’s the perfect complement.

Texture

Utilizing different textures can create a dramatic effect indoors or out. That’s why there are so many Cultured Stone options to choose from, including:

| | |
|---------------|---------|
| Ledge | Field |
| Random Ashlar | Rounded |
| Ashlar | Brick |
| Rubble | |

Color

Are you looking for neutral or warm? Vibrant or muted? What about a diverse palette? Cultured Stone is available in a stunning variety of colors. You can even blend two or more textures or colorways to create a distinctive result.

Trim

A wide selection of Cultured Stone accessory products are available to put the finishing touch on your project. You can find them in our Product Selection Guide and at www.culturedstone.com.

Grout

The color of the mortar you use can have a big impact on the overall look of the project. It can blend with the stone veneer or complement the colorway and make it stand out. Standard type N or S mortar color varies regionally, and color additives for mortar also are available. Check with your local dealer for the standard mortar color in your area and the color choices that are available.

While some Cultured Stone® veneer stone textures are designed to be installed only with or without the standard 1/2" mortar joint, others may be installed using a variety of techniques for greater design flexibility. Among the most popular installation techniques are dry stacked, tight-fitted stone without a mortar joint; standard 1/2" mortar joint finished in a variety of ways (e.g., raked, full to face, overgrouted, or various forms of weeping joints); and wide joint, usually full to face or overgrouted.
