FAMILY OFFICES

It is well known that family businesses are a cornerstone of economies in the MENA region. Much less well known is how these same families choose to invest and manage their wealth.

Our Family Offices dataset is a meticulously verified and growing collection of identified high net-worth families. We provide data on known family offices across 11 countries.

In addition to our standard organisation profiles (containing corporate filing, management, ownership and holdings information), our dataset includes premium insights for over 60 family offices. These premium insights include a summary of the family office's background, source of wealth, investment strategy and decision makers.

Gain clarity through these unique insights, informing your strategies and saving you valuable time.
