

CuraMedix Connect

Research, news and marketing tips to help you grow your practice.

Greetings!

So about 30+ years ago, my mom decided she wanted to invest in a little-known company. She really didn't know much about it but she'd read a bit and thought it would be a fun sport just to follow. My dad, never a risk taker nor a gambler, appeased her and bought a few shares of the up-and-coming company she'd set her sights on.

Whether it's buying stock, playing the lottery, or placing your chip on 22 Black, some may pay off big, a few not so much, while others not at all.

Shock wave has more evidence to back it than most other modalities combined, including surgery. Choosing to invest in shock wave for your patients and practice is a smart investment—that will pay you dividends.

Ready to place your bet on a proven winner? Let's talk soon and get you up and running with EPAT, ESWT or EMTT.

All the best,
Elise

P.S. The company...? Apple!
