

He gives her a big hug as he is just about to board his boat.

“Don’t fall asleep too long now!” she tells him as he laughs at her.

They say their goodbyes and he is off. The boy is wearing all black, black shirt and pants with white shoes. A large suitcase trails behind him packed with many clothes for the long vacation. He gets excited as he sees a wide seat in front of him. The cushioning is soft and nicely padded.

“These are the peaks of traveling” he whispers under his breath.

As he sits in his seat he starts to wander off and look out the window. The ocean goes on and on for thousands of miles, just the crest of the waves and the choppiness of the water. He decides to take a nap, like always. His eyes begin to close slower and slower until...he’s asleep.

To him it seems like only a couple hours since he had fallen asleep but sleep is so deceiving. He is woken up by an echoing voice calling his name.

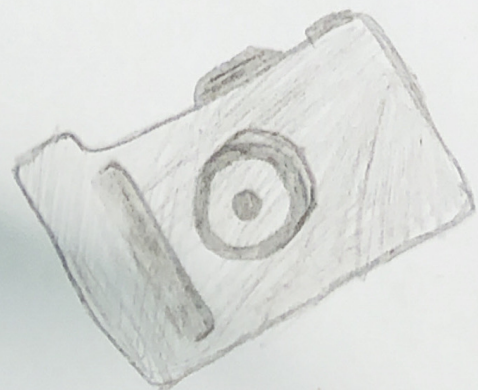

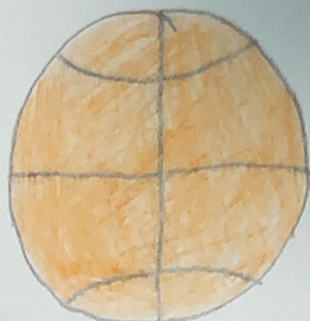

“Miyuki! Wake up!”.

He jumps up in his seat and grabs his head. A light headache has started to form and he looks confused to why he even has one. His glance is then taken to the boy standing in front of him. He looks very familiar, like his best friend Gyani, but he wasn’t supposed to be meeting him. This so-called “Gyani” still seems to know him very well and he is startled when he pulls him in for a giant hug, lifting him off the ground.

“Gyani!?! What are you doing here?” he asks, surprised.

“Uh sorry, I’m not Gyani, I’m Kaguya...” there doesn’t seem to be a response

“Shinomiya?” Kaguya asks again, looking troubled.

He doesn't know this name and has never seen this person in his life. Maybe it's the headache causing him to see things. It's probably actually Gyani and he's just playing with him so he answers with a sarcastic tone:

"Oh yes of course! I'm just so tired and unoriented that I didn't realize at first"

The boy nervously laughs and mutters under his breath,

"Umm what is happening!?" and walks off with "Miyuki" behind him.

Looking around "Miyuki" realizes that this is not what he remembered the boat looking like when he first got on those many hours ago. How long has it even been? Did he accidentally sleep through something or through another world even? He looks down at his feet. Nothing has changed from his all black clothing and white shoes outfit. Then as this guy is leading him through the vessel they pass a mirror. He gasps because the mirror portrays a blonde haired boy. He isn't blonde! He's always had dark hair. The boy starts to worry and wonder where he really is. The guy doesn't notice his expression so they continue walking. Once they are out of the boat and on to the port the guy starts telling him how much he's missed him and what he's missed since he's been gone. Something is very very wrong. He doesn't go to a private school in Japan nor is he the top student of his class, well only Gyani actually believes that. Worst of all, he is NOT the student council president at this so-called Shuchiin Academy. He loses his balance and almost falls down. His head starts spinning a little more. A song starts playing on loud speakers nearby, soothing his ears.

"Take it easy on my heart!....Please have mercyyy on me!"

"I love this song!" he exclaims

"Really? I had no idea. Why didn't you tell me you liked Shawn Mendes!?" Kaguya asks.

Suddenly "Miyuki's" world starts spinning a little faster than before. Wait... is that HENRY! And, and Tom? Betta, Josh, Cecelia, Jamie! Cole and Carter? This is so weird. Weirder than that they all come towards him with weird faces shouting words at him in strange voices, like sirens.

"MiYuKiiii! RAMENNN"

"I make better friend riiiiice than youuuu"

"No! NO that's not true" he shouts

"No one likes KPop ewwwwww"

"Basketball sucksssss".

"No...No....what is this" he starts losing his breathe and balance

"I-I-I'm NOT MIYUKI SHIROGANE! I am Peter Zhao!" he finally shouts at them.

They all disappear in that moment and Peter falls to the ground.

He jumps up in his seat gasping for air. People look at him concernedly. Peter looks around at the very normal boat and very normal world. Was he just in a horror world with his favorite Anime story? No, that's not possible, anime wouldn't do that to him after all the love he gives watching it. He sighs and falls back asleep. Be careful Peter, don't fall too deep now.
