

Type of Position: Full Time

Position Title: Influencer Coordinator

Location: Calgary, Alberta

Position Start Date: December 1, 2019

About Glacier

At Glacier, we are the leaders in Gen Z & Millennial influencer marketing. How, you ask? Because we have the largest network of these types of influencers in North America. With the purpose of spreading truth to the world we constantly strive to improve and be on the cutting edge of advertising to this massively influential demographic. We recognize that this is also a very impressionable demographic, which is why we strongly adhere to our core value of Do The Right Thing, and we will only ever promote brands/organizations that have the best interests of Gen Z's in mind.

About the Position

The influencer Operations Coordinator is involved in the very first steps of running a successful influencer marketing campaign! The Coordinator will have the job of successfully onboarding influencers for all types of campaigns, mainly using our company Instagram account and our Influencer tech platform to sift through and onboard the perfect influencers for each individual campaign. This role is one of the most important parts of the influencer division as it entails the full onboarding coordination of the clients needs, and therefore requires a very detail orientated and organized individual. Glacier is looking for a very particular person to fill this role, who gets excited about Influencer marketing and finding great candidates for our clients to choose from.

In this position you will be using your creativity to strategize all types of onboarding techniques in order to find Glacier approved influencers. You will be the face of Glacier to thousands of students/macro influencers and you will need a keen eye to determine which influential students should be let into our network. This will require half of your time to be spent talking to and screening students using Instagram, Facebook, phone and email or whatever else you can think of. Influential marketing is the way of the future and we are excited for you to join our team!
