

Multifamily Trade Ally Program Application & Participation Agreement

Contractors interested in participating in the Consumers Energy Multifamily Program must complete this application and participation agreement.

Consumers Energy has developed a portfolio of programs promoting energy efficiency and conservation, including rebates and education. The Consumers Energy Multifamily Program offers financial incentives to participating building owners for the installation of qualifying energy-efficient equipment in common areas and tenant units of eligible multifamily residences.

This Trade Ally Participation Agreement is between the listed contractor and Consumers Energy. This agreement defines the terms under which the contractor agrees to participate in the Consumers Energy Multifamily Program.

Program Benefits
