

Nick Viney

Senior Vice President and General Manager: Telcos and IoT

Nick Viney joined Avast in May 2020 and is a Senior Vice President in the company based out of Avast's London office.

Prior to joining Avast, Mr. Viney held Sales and Regional Vice President roles at McAfee in both the consumer and corporate sectors before being appointed Group CEO of Cyber 1, an enterprise cybersecurity provider listed on the Nasdaq First North Growth Market, in late 2018.

Mr. Viney has also held leadership positions within the consumer, SMB and enterprise business units at Google and Microsoft, respectively. His experience covers multiple channels to market, including the mobile and carrier sector, the IoT and home automation opportunity and many other partnerships.

Mr. Viney began his career in consultancy and has contributed to advising external software companies over the years. He has a Master of Science (MSc) in Management Science and a Master (MA) in Modern History both from the University of Oxford, England.