

Job Description

Job Title: Kickstart Placement – Content Researcher

Reports To: Co-Founder & COO

Job Purpose: Content Researcher in Kickstart Scheme will report directly to the Co-Founder & COO. Their responsibility is to find events/entertainment sources online/offline.

Who we are

Tickets for Good is a platform that connects ticket providers, corporate partners, and charitable organisations (charities, social prescribers and the NHS) to allow everyone to do good, be seen and inspire others. We allow ticket providers to do good whilst filling their venues. We help companies do good and be seen through sponsorship. We help people in need through access to life-changing experiences in order to be healthier and happier.

Who are eligible

Claiming Universal Credit? Aged 18 -24? Looking for that opportunity to get a job role with training? A Kickstart Placement offers 25 hours a week paid employment for 6 months. During that time, we will support young people to build experience. Kickstart Scheme candidates should be eligible for the Kickstart scheme to be considered for this role (refer to kickstart eligibility at <https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/kickstart-scheme> for more information).

Who we are looking for

- Super creative
- Loves events culture
- Flexible, target-driven, proactive approach
- Think laterally
- Eager to learn
- Great research skills
- Meticulous attention to detail and thorough approach to work
- We would expect you to have evidence of why you would be good / love to work for us

What you will do

- Sourcing entertainment content for the platform of Tickets for Good
- Identifying relevant topics, fact-checking, and analyzing sources to generate information
- Researching and planning stories and features
- News and trend monitoring

What we care about

We care about your creativity, skills, character, values and work ethic. More importantly we will care about you.

What we don't care about

Your degree, qualifications or lack thereof, at all.

Why would you want to work for us

The work we do benefits society. We will offer equity. You will receive tickets to amazing music, theatre and sporting events throughout the UK. You can work remotely if you wish.
