Smarter school management in one connected platform.

Compass

Our story so far...

In 2009, Compass co-founders John de la Motte and Lucas Filer felt like there had to be a better way to for schools to use software to manage their day-to-day tasks. So they set to work developing it. A decade later, their connected school management system has been tailored to reach every aspect of your school community, giving you more time to focus on the important things.

Let us show you how it's done.

Automate your processes through one complete school management platform

Replace multiple systems with one

Fed up with multiple logins for software that doesn't integrate? Compass combines all of your school management needs in one, integrating your school's data across each module.

Integrate your existing SIS

We'll seamlessly integrate with your existing SIS, ensuring the smooth continuation of your school's operations and providing an intuitive interface for your community's vital data.

Access free training and support

We won't leave you in the lurch, from your initial setup to your ongoing use of Compass, we'll be there to ensure you're able to get the most from the platform, twenty hours a day, five days a week.

Feel sure your data is safe

We don't just integrate your data, we keep it protected too; with industry-standard data encryption technology and Australian-based data centres, you can feel sure your vital details are kept safe.

Intelligent tools to follow the journey your students make through the school gates each day

Every school day starts with marking the roll, so it seemed like the perfect place to begin. No more marking paper rolls, Compass streamlines attendance data so absences never go unexplained and reporting obligations are never missed. We carry these insights across to wellbeing monitoring, so you can be sure your students are safe throughout the day.

Quick and easy roll marking

Mark your rolls from your mobile phone, tablet, laptop or PC in seconds and we'll flag unexpected absences, late arrivals and even medical details or custom information for you...

Simple absence approval

Unexplained absence? We'll send an automated SMS to the students' parents or carers, providing them with the opportunity to respond instantly...

Accessible attendance summaries

Easily access interactive individual and group-based attendance summaries, gaining a detailed insight into attendance in your school.

Easily report on student performance in half the time and double the detail

We don't just help you track where and how your students are, but equip you with the resources required to produce in-depth reports into their performance. From writing and publishing end of semester reports to providing continuous, year-round qualitative feedback to students and parents, progress will never go unmissed.

Multiple reporting options

Empower students with year-round reporting options: from fully customisable semester reports, to interim check-ins perfect for cross year analysis...

Immediate data integration

Seamlessly pull across data from other areas of Compass, including information relating to attendance and wellbeing, to include in your reports…

In-depth analysis

Import and integrate key assessment results into Compass (including past results), and find and compare test results with clever class, form, and year level analysis available.

To measure progress you need to drive it: foster an environment for every student to succeed

We believe every child deserves to study in an environment where teaching and learning thrive. Compass has been built to give teachers more time to focus on teaching: less time spent on administrative tasks means more time for students to learn. We also offer extensive functionality designed to power your student's learning, including the easy management of assessment tasks.

Time-saving assignment management

Save hours of time with our online assignment management. Open communication channels between schools and families with in-built comment options, and effortlessly integrate marks into end of semester reports...

Online assignment creation

Make messy homework a thing of the past by moving the creation, publication, monitoring, marking and review of assignments entirely online...

Paperless reporting

Effortlessly create, customise and share year-round, paperless reports that celebrate every day progress.

Engaging and involving your school's parents and carers has never been easier

Engaging parents and carers is essential to fostering an environment where students succeed, but it's not always easy. We've made sure Compass is full of touchpoints for parents and carers, from accessing the parent portal to view the newsfeed, to consenting to and paying for excursions from the Compass phone app. No matter how busy, Compass allows parents and carers to play role in their child's education.

Essential school updates in one place

Keep parents and carers updated about events, school community news and pupil performance through the newsfeed, accessible through their portal...
Consent and approval through the app

Don't just update parents and carers: give them the ability to fully engage, wherever they are - from booking interviews at parent-teacher conferences to providing consent for excursions...

Simplified school payments

Don't stop at providing consent for excursions or events: allow parents and carers to easily pay for them - and even set up payment plans.

Keep your school community in-the-loop without having to update the calendar

Our school calendar functionality allows you to manage key school dates within Compass. Schools can create an unlimited number of school calendars that can be displayed to staff, students and parents with customised access for each user group. This module is designed to manage excursions, exam periods, curriculum and student-free days as well as any other school planning.

Every key date in one place

Ensure you're school community never misses a thing with our auto-updating, online calendar: easily integratable with your existing, external calendars...

Intuitive event management

Organise events and conference days like a pro, with our in-built templates, notification chains and attendee management available at your fingertips...

Connected booking, payment and consent

Enable hassle-free payment, consent and booking options through both the web and Compass mobile app, or find out more about CompassTix for external guests on page 11.

Spend more time fostering your community and less time on administrative tasks

Think of Compass like a digital filing cabinet, neatly organised for your ease. Everything you need is a click away with our systematic people management structure, with user records for every individual. From contact information to demographics, accessing vital information has never been easier or quicker.

Complete records for each individual

Parents, staff and students: all of the key information you need stored in one secure, accessible place...

Parent and carer portals

A gateway to engagement, parents and carers in your school community can easily access up-to-date news and information...

Key details available in seconds

Securely export user details, contact information and demographics to make accessing vital information about individuals in your community quicker than ever.

What do we mean by an 'ecosystem'?

Ecosystem isn't jargon for us, it's the perfect metaphor for we work: every facet of your school community operating together as a whole. Our software will connect your entire school community, bringing together all of your necessary administrative processes in one place, but we also offer hardware services integrating our school management solution.

Ō Compass | IDENTITY CARDS

RFID-chipped identification cards for students and staff, with multiple functions that can be used throughout your school community.

Ō Compass | KIOSK

An integrated hub at the heart of your school's processes, the Kiosk has been designed to streamline visitor sign-ins, late student arrivals and parent drop off and pick up.

Ō Compass | GUARDIAN

Our connected door management system, allowing you to easily manage door access from a centralised location.

COMPASSTIX

Remember being cheered on by members of your family at a school sporting event? Perhaps you performed in a class production while your grandparents watched on? When we were building Compass' extensive events functionality we realised that there are many occasions when it might be necessary to open up event attendance and ticket provision to the wider school community.

That's why we created CompassTix. A ticketing platform built for school communities - like Compass, guided by the feedback of schools - CompassTix makes providing tickets for your school events easy.

PARTNERSHIPS

School photo day should be all about smiles, and our partnership with MSP Photography ensures that it is. From capturing the perfect snaps to high-quality printing and timely delivery, we've made sure everything runs smoothly, bringing together what each of our teams do best.
