 Compass

More than a school management system, Compass is about the people who make up your school community: teachers and admin staff, students and parents & carers.

We don't just connect your school's processes, we bring your community closer. Let us show you how it's done.

Principals and senior leadership

Whether a tiny regional primary or a massive metropolitan secondary, leading a school successfully comes with dozens of tasks large and small to take care of each day. It's easy to lose track of the bigger picture: achieving the vision you have set for your school community. Visionary leadership doesn't come too easily when you're totally consumed by day-to-day operations, but it doesn't have to be this way.

- ✓ Centralise your school's processes, replacing multiple systems and paper-based admin
- ✓ Ensure your messages reach parents & carers with targeted communication tools, including an online newsfeed and instant notifications
- ✓ Gain actionable insights into your school's performance through instant reports and easy data analysis
- ✓ Improve job satisfaction for teachers and administrative staff, including tracking Professional Development hours
- ✓ Clear your mind from compliance worries

Business and corporate services managers

Compliance, financial management, codes of conduct. Schools need leadership, but they also need a meticulous eye to check that every 'i' has been dotted, 't' has been crossed and cheque has been cashed. Having the tools to make all of this as efficient as possible is where we step in.

- ✓ Keep a consistent eye on your budgets
- ✓ Securely store essential details
- ✓ Ensure you're always up-to-date with compliance regulations
- ✓ Easily streamline payments and consent from parents & carers
- ✓ Know your data is safe with Level 1 PCI-DSS compliance

Administrative staff

Holding everything together isn't always easy, but somebody has to do it. The school office may not be where learning takes place, but it's your school's control centre - and making sure everything runs as smoothly as possible is essential to students receiving a great education. But some tasks get in the way of the more important work you could be doing. We can change that.

- ✓ Automate time-consuming processes like late arrivals and early departures
- ✓ Ensure your data is accurate and up-to-date
- ✓ Track unmarked rolls and unexplained absences, and trigger staff reminders
- ✓ Spend more time completing fulfilling work
- ✓ Replace office filing cabinets with instant access to contact details, attendance reports and vital wellbeing information

Teachers

You got into teaching to teach. To inspire young people. To shape the minds of the future. Yet you spend an awful lot of time doing basic administrative work that gets in the way of planning lessons that excite and inspire. It's a familiar story and one we work tirelessly to turn around, so you can get back to doing what you love.

- ✓ Mark your roll in seconds, leaving more time for learning
- ✓ Make less trips to the office, easily view student whereabouts on an automated roll, from sickbay to music lessons
- ✓ Take home less grade marking and admin work
- ✓ Instantly notify parents & carers of important information regarding their child, including the late submission of homework

Parents and carers

You want the best for your child and that means giving them the greatest possible education. Playing a role in that education is a vital element of ensuring your child gets the most out of their schooling, but with such a hectic schedule it can be difficult to get as involved as you need to. We've been busy developing a way to make engaging in your child's education easy, no matter how busy you are.

- ✓ Easily track your child's progress through school
- ✓ Respond to unauthorised absence notifications
- ✓ Access up-to-date news about your child's school community
- ✓ Ensure your child is completing the tasks assigned to them
- ✓ Avoid trips to the school office; process payments, consent, canteen orders and more from your phone
