

PRIVACY STATEMENT

Last updated: May 2020.

Seedlink is committed to protecting the integrity and privacy of personal information provided on Seedlink's platform. This statement describes the types of information Seedlink collects, and the ways in which Seedlink uses and discloses that information.

We provide our clients with a service (the "Service") that enables the client and their (potential) employees to engage in a variety of interactive applications, interviews, training and evaluation activities.

DEFINITIONS

For the purpose of this statement we use the following definitions:

Candidates: Applicants for positions with a particular Client. Candidates do not, in all instances, use the Service in order to apply for a job with a specific Client. For example, Candidates may access the Service to verify the status of their applications.

If the Client is a recruiting firm, Candidates are applying to positions with the recruiting firm's clients. In such cases, the definition of 'Candidates' also includes 'candidates of the recruiting firm's clients'.

Clients: Seedlink's clients, such as employers and recruiting firms, that enter into an agreement with Seedlink in order to use the Service.

Employees: Employees that work for a particular Client. Employees can be divided into the following categories:

- (i.) employees who provide language data
- (ii.) employees who provide labels for the employees mentioned above
- (iii.) employees who analyse the data produced by Seedlink

If the Client is a recruiting firm, the Employees work for the recruiting firm's clients. In such cases the definition of 'Employees' also includes the 'employees of the recruiting firm's clients'.

Personal data: Personal details within the meaning of the GDPR.

PROCESSING ACTIVITIES

Seedlink processes personal data (i) on behalf of the Client and (ii) for its own purposes.

(i) Processing on behalf of the Client

The Service enables Clients, Employees and Candidates to exchange information varying from standard profile information (including name, address, phone number, and other similar information) to information provided in a digital interview with a Candidate.

The personal data Seedlink receives from Candidates and Employees are a result of the cooperation with a particular Client.

For purposes of the GDPR, Seedlink acts as “processor”, when processing personal data on behalf of Clients. The Client acts as the “controller” of the personal data, as it determines the purpose and the means of processing such personal data.

As a processor, Seedlink only processes personal data that are strictly necessary for fulfilling the agreement with the Client.

(ii) Processing for Seedlink’s purposes

Seedlink uses anonymous data for the purposes of improving the Service. This includes analysis of anonymous usage trends, interests, and preferences to improve the way the Service works, looks, and to create new features and functionality. Data is processed to produce anonymous data by the removal of personal data (“anonymisation”).

AUTOMATED PROCESSING YES, AUTOMATED DECISIONS NO

Seedlink’s Service helps to process Personal data automatically, but it doesn’t make any automated decisions about Candidates. Seedlink’s Service is actually designed and intended to take out potential biases - like gender, background or age - from a Client’s selection process.

So how does it work?

Seedlink’s Service discovers information in the use of language. It uses algorithms to compare a Candidate’s use of language to that of Employees and predicts how well a Candidate is likely to fit in a given organizational structure, role and/or function.

As such, Seedlink does not make any decision on the categories of data that are used to profile Candidates, nor does Seedlink generate automated decision making from its insights with regards to the selection of Candidates. The Service is designed as a tool to assist Clients during their hiring process, not as a tool to completely automate the hiring process.

COOKIES

A statement of Seedlink’s use of cookies when providing the Service is available at the URL below:
<https://cdn-eu-aws.slaimg.com/policies/seedlink-technologies-cookie-statement.pdf>

ACCESS TO PERSONAL DATA

Seedlink’s Service connects Clients with Candidates and/or Employees. As such, personal data is shared with the applicable Client(s).

Seedlink only shares personal data with third parties, if necessary, for fulfilling the Service. This relates to our IT service providers (e.g. sending of emails or mobile phone text messages).

In order to comply with (inter)national laws, or in response to a court order, judicial or other government subpoena or warrant, or to otherwise cooperate with investigative or law enforcement activity, Seedlink may be obligated to disclose personal data to public authorities.

RIGHTS DATA SUBJECTS

Data subjects have the right to obtain free access to their personal data and to receive a copy. Data subjects also have the right to rectify, erase, restrict the processing or adjust preferences. Changes to personal data will be promptly reflected in active user databases. Please note, users that have previously accessed the content may have access to copies cached on their device.

If data subjects would like to exercise one or more of the aforementioned rights, they can contact the Client (in case of 'processing activities' mentioned before under (i.)) or Seedlink at security@seedlinktech.com (in case of 'processing activities' mentioned before under (ii.)). Data subjects can also give notice via e-mail that their right to privacy over-rides Seedlink's grounds of processing. In the event such notifications are received, Seedlink will review and assess those notifications on a case-by-case basis.

If data subjects contact Seedlink, we may ask for further information to confirm the identity of the data subject. In this way we make sure the data subject is actually the person contacting us. We also follow this procedure in case of unclear requests.

DATA SECURITY

Seedlink has taken technical and organizational measures to secure personal data and prevent any misuse. However, it should be noted that there are no measures that are completely secure or immune from outages, losses, attacks, circumvention, design or implementation flaws, and human error. Seedlink is ISO 27001 certified.

If Seedlink learns of a security systems breach, we may attempt to notify you electronically so you can take appropriate protective steps. Seedlink may post a notice through the Service if a security breach occurs. Depending on where you live, you may have a legal right to receive notice of a security breach in writing. To receive a free written notice of a security breach you should notify us at security@seedlinktech.com.

RETENTION PERIOD

Seedlink does not keep personal data any longer than necessary. In that regard we have established time limits for erasure.

Personal data of Candidates shall be retained for a maximum period of one year from the provision of such information by the Candidates.

Personal data linked to user accounts that have been inactive for one year is deleted together with the account.

Personal data that Seedlink collects and qualify as accounting records are retained for 7 years in accordance with the tax legislation and regulations.

QUESTIONS OR COMPLAINTS

If you would like to know more or in case you have a complaint about the way Seedlink processes your personal data, you can contact us at:

Seedlink Technologies, B.V.
Kleine Gartmanplantsoen 21
1017 RP Amsterdam
Headquarters: +31 20 810 2230
Privacy Statement Inquiries: security@seedlinktech.com

In the undesirable event that you are not happy about how we have dealt with your personal data; you can also contact the supervisory authority. In the Netherlands this authority is called the Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens.

INTERNATIONAL VISITORS

Depending on a variety of factors including, but not limited to, your location, the location of the Client you may be interviewing at or conducting training with or the location of the job you have or are interviewing for, the Service may be hosted in either China or the European Union. If you choose to use the Service from other regions of the world outside China or the EU, as applicable, where laws governing data collection and use may differ from China and/or EU law, then please note that you are transferring your personal data outside of those regions to China or the European Union (as applicable) for storage and processing, and by providing your personal data to the Service you consent to that transfer, storage, and processing. Such transfer occurs pursuant to the standard contractual clauses agreed between Seedlink and Clients.

AFFILIATES; IN THE EVENT OF MERGER OR SALE

Seedlink may now or in the future be affiliated directly or indirectly with other companies, such as parent companies and subsidiaries (and their parent companies and subsidiaries) and reserves the right to transfer your personal data to any of these affiliated companies. In the event that all or a portion of Seedlink or its assets is acquired by or merged with a third-party entity or is subject to a change of control all or a portion of the data and information in Seedlink's systems may be one of the assets involved in such transaction, and we reserve the right, in any of these circumstances, to transfer or assign all or a portion of the information that we have collected from users in connection with such merger, acquisition, sale, or other change of control.

CHANGES AND UPDATES TO THIS PRIVACY STATEMENT

The legislation and regulations concerning data protection sometimes change. This means our privacy statement is updated regularly. As a result, this privacy statement can change from time to time. When these changes are relevant for you, we will of course notify you. Please note that the most recent version is always accessible on our website.