High Yield

EdlyOutcomes I (High Yield) – Supplement dated August 10, 2020 (“PPM Supplement”) to the Confidential Private Placement Memorandum for Edly Funding Series LLC dated April 20, 2020

Description

Edly is now offering an opportunity for investors to have Edly manage their investment accounts opened with Edly. Each investor will have their managed investment account invested in a diversified pool of fixed percentage payment Income Share Agreements (“ISAs”).

The Investment Objective is monthly income distributions of cash flow ultimately achieving a target return derived from payments under participation interests in either pools of ISA contracts or in debt instruments secured by ISA contracts. Investments may only be made by “Accredited Investors” (as defined in Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act).

ISAs allow students to finance their education without the use of debt and allow investors to participate in the future earnings potential of a skilled graduate. Edly focuses on ISAs in the STEM fields in addition to nursing, business, and specialized vocational schools.

EdlyOutcomes I (High Yield) is an investment program that seeks to provide high absolute yield and reduce risk by offering investors a diversified portfolio of ISAs, which will include ISAs from a large number of schools, fields of study (with a concentration in technology), and geographic regions.

Each investment in an EdlyOutcomes I (High Yield) managed account will take the form of a Series LLC interest owned entirely by the investor. Each series will be subscribed to by a single investor who will be the sole owner of the series limited liability company interests issued by that series. Edly as Manager of the Company will also be the Manager of each series established for the investors. ISA Participations are acquired by a series, and all rights of ownership including all financial results and related tax consequences of the ISA Participations will be for the benefit and account of the investor owning that series. See Exhibit A of the Confidential Private Placement Memorandum for Edly Funding Series LLC dated April 20, 2020 for the form of the Company Limited Liability Company Agreement and the form of Series Designation to the Limited Liability Company Agreement.

Edly seeks to use a consistent investment methodology for ISA investments. The core element of the methodology is to determine the future value of the share of student income. Edly does this by looking at past and current earnings of graduates from various higher education programs. Edly does not use credit scores such as FICO because FICO punishes students who have limited credit history. We believe most students have limited credit history and that this is not determinative of future economic success. But Edly will reject students if they have a poor credit history as determined by actual defaults, bankruptcies or other material credit impairments.

Edly conducts an analysis of the investment returns available to investors using its proprietary analytics systems. This analysis considers the cost of an educational program, the historical financial outcomes of the schools and their students, and the impact of structured investment enhancements Edly adds to the program. The result is a consistent method for analyzing unique programs on a common system. Edly works with servicers and schools to collect payments from students who successfully find jobs after graduation.

Edly ISA purchase agreements with schools are designed to align the interests of schools and students. Schools receive financial incentives if their students are successful and are specifically rewarded for good student outcomes including graduation, employment in higher paying jobs, and continued employment. If a school's students routinely fail to attain these objectives and results, the school will receive a significantly lower return on sales of its ISAs to Edly. Edly retains the right to terminate an ISA purchase program with a school if the school's ISAs perform unsatisfactorily from an investment perspective on a consistent basis. Edly believes this incentive structure is important in maintaining positive investment outcomes for investors in the ISA Participations.

Sample ISA Terms (for illustration only):

Edly uses its investment criteria to screen investment opportunities and then structures investments which seek to minimize risk to investors. While there are limited current opportunities to seek liquidity from selling ISAs, we strive to maximize the cash we receive on the ISAs by working with servicers and schools.

What cash distributions do EdlyOutcomes I investors receive?

- EdlyOutcomes I (High Yield) investors will receive monthly distributions from ISA cashflows, net of fees.
- With respect to each ISA Participation, collections received by Edly in the prior calendar will be distributed on each monthly payment date.

Each ISA Participation is an interest in a pool of ISAs and the pool will have priority of payments as part of its structure and agreement with the originating school as set forth below:

- to the payment of accrued and unpaid servicing fees to the Servicer
- to the payment of accrued and unpaid Management Fee to the Manager
- to the payment of accrued and unpaid Expenses to the Manager
- to the investor until the investor achieves a cumulative internal rate of return (a “target return”) set by the Manager for each ISA pool depending upon its financial characteristics
- to the payment to the school that originated the ISAs in the ISA Pool, a contingent additional purchase price, but only up to an agreed percentage of the undistributed remaining proceeds (which may be 100% after the ISA pool achieves the target return for the investors); and
- the remainder, if any, to the investors.

This cash distribution priority may vary for each ISA pool as determined by the Manager.

What is the duration of an EdlyOutcomes I (High Yield) investment?

- The target duration for EdlyOutcomes I (High Yield) is 4 years.

There is no assurance that Edly will be successful at selling those assets.
