

DV-alert

Domestic and Family Violence Response Training

DV-alert is free, nationally accredited training to help frontline workers recognise the signs of domestic and family violence – and know what to do next.

Learn how to:

RECOGNISE the signs of domestic and family violence

RESPOND confidently with appropriate care

REFER women and their children to appropriate support services

Costs

DV-alert training is free for frontline workers. Financial support and help with travel and accommodation are available in some cases. Terms and conditions apply.

I learnt about the greater context in which domestic and family violence takes place and the interconnected issues.

— Wez, Youth Liaison Officer

Available workshop streams

Accredited 2-day workshops:

General
Indigenous
Working with Women with Disabilities
Multicultural
Settlement

Non-accredited 1-day specialist workshops:

Complex Forms of Violence
Engaging with Interpreters
Men who use Violence

Enrol Now

DV-alert face-to-face workshops are delivered by Lifeline and held across all states and territories in Australia.

Find out when the next workshop is in your location at dvalert.org.au.

Training delivered by Lifeline Australia (RTO 88036)

Funded by the Australian Government Department of Social Services. Go to www.dss.gov.au for more information.

Training delivered by

