A CUSTOMER SUCCESS STORY

A leading provider of insurance and financial services with over 28,000 employees was in search of a universal docking solution to maximize its investment and eliminate the financial impact of purchasing a new dock each time it refreshes its laptop fleet or changes OEM providers. While the initial investment in Targus docking stations was a concern, the longevity of a universal solution that'll survive multiple laptop refreshes and work with a mix of devices ultimately won over the company. Our client also saw immense value in the ability to deliver power to legacy USB-A laptops - a Targus exclusive.

Through the rollout, the Targus team held bi-weekly meetings with the client to ensure implementation and employee adoption remained on track. Moreover, Targus Application Engineers performed pre- and post-deployment testing to ensure the docks operated as advertised.

As the client continues to grow its mixed fleet, they now forego the incremental cost of purchasing new non-universal docking stations for specific devices. The company will realize an estimated $3 million savings over the next three-year period as their team continues to refresh client devices.
