Using Social Media

Tips for using social media to help promote your foster dog(s):

- 1. Use Instagram/Facebook Stories: Regularly share Facebook/Instagram Stories featuring your foster dog(s) dogs
 - Use a combination of photos, videos and boomerangs showcasing your foster dog's personality (i.e. playing with a favorite toy, mastering a command, etc.).
 - Consider animating a photo or video with stickers or a GIF.
 - Tag the @ASPCA and your shelter and use hashtag #AdoptAFosterDog for a chance to be shared on our social media!
 - Before your story disappears in 24 hours, you can create a 'Highlights' section on your Instagram to showcase all the foster dogs you currently have that are up for adoption, and people can view those stories at a later time.
- 2. Use Instagram/Facebook Live: Consider doing a livestream with your foster dog(s) playing, cuddling or practicing tricks.
 - Post in advance letting followers know when they can tune in.
 - Use the video as an opportunity to show and describe what it's like to live with your foster dog and answer any questions that come in.
 - Pin a comment with more context about your foster and a link to their adoption profile. Be sure to also include a clear call-to-action for how potential adopters can meet the dog they are interested in.
 - Get more tips for going live here.
- 3. Use TikTok: Leverage the popularity of TikTok to reach even more potential adopters.
 - a. Record vertical videos of your foster dog up to 15 seconds in length and then find a relevant song and add it to the video.
 - b. Humor is a major draw on TikTok, especially when what's happening in the video correlates with the song.
 - c. Don't forget to use relevant hashtags to increase visibility.

- d. Get more tips for maximizing the TikTok platform here.
- 4. Boost your photography skills:
 - a. Look for natural light-or bright lighting if indoors. Avoid using flash and shoot with light coming from behind you to avoid backlighting your foster dog.
 - b. Get down to your foster dog's level.
 - c. Focus on capturing their eyes to make a great connection between the dog and potential adopters.
 - d. Use toys or treats to get your foster's attention.
 - e. Be patient and take plenty of photos so you have options to choose from.
