

Dear valued WATS^{3D} customer,

CDx Diagnostics empowers physicians with innovative technology to preempt esophageal cancer, one patient at a time. As part of that mission, we work continuously to enhance your experience with WATS^{3D}, from sampling to diagnosis.

The following updates will take effect on Wednesday, October 13, 2021.

SIMPLIFIED SAMPLING PROCESS

WATS^{3D} sampling no longer requires you to prepare slides! We're delivering the quality you expect, but now with simpler steps that reduce your sample prep time.

In the new process, you'll clip the two brush tips into separate vials after brushing: brush, clip, brush, clip...it's that easy!

Follow our new "Instructions For Use" and refer to our "Quick Reference Guide For Slide-less Kits."

Starting October 13, CDx will start shipping the new slide-less kits. If you have not received the new kits, please continue using the kits you have on hand until you receive them and make the switch. CDx will accept both new and old kits to ensure uninterrupted diagnostic services.

STREAMLINED TEST REQUISITION FORM

We've also simplified our Test Requisition Form (TRF) by reducing the required information. You'll find the new specimen paperwork to be even easier and faster.

If you participate in the CDx registry study, you will receive both a new TRF and a new Case Report Form (CRF).

CLEARER DIAGNOSTIC REPORTS

Our WATS^{3D} lab reports are also getting an improved layout with diagnostic language that's clear and actionable.

The report places the most important information up front, with the patient diagnosis and comments section displayed clearly at the top.

QUESTIONS?
