

This architecture competition should facilitate to deliver a proper image of San Jose and function as a remarkable landmark that could add an interesting architectural object to San Jose. San Jose is a hub place of many innovative companies, and their achievement does not benefit the city but also people over the world. In response to this considerable success, the new light tower has a strong visual presence, and it contains the core value of the city to enhance the civic pride of citizens.