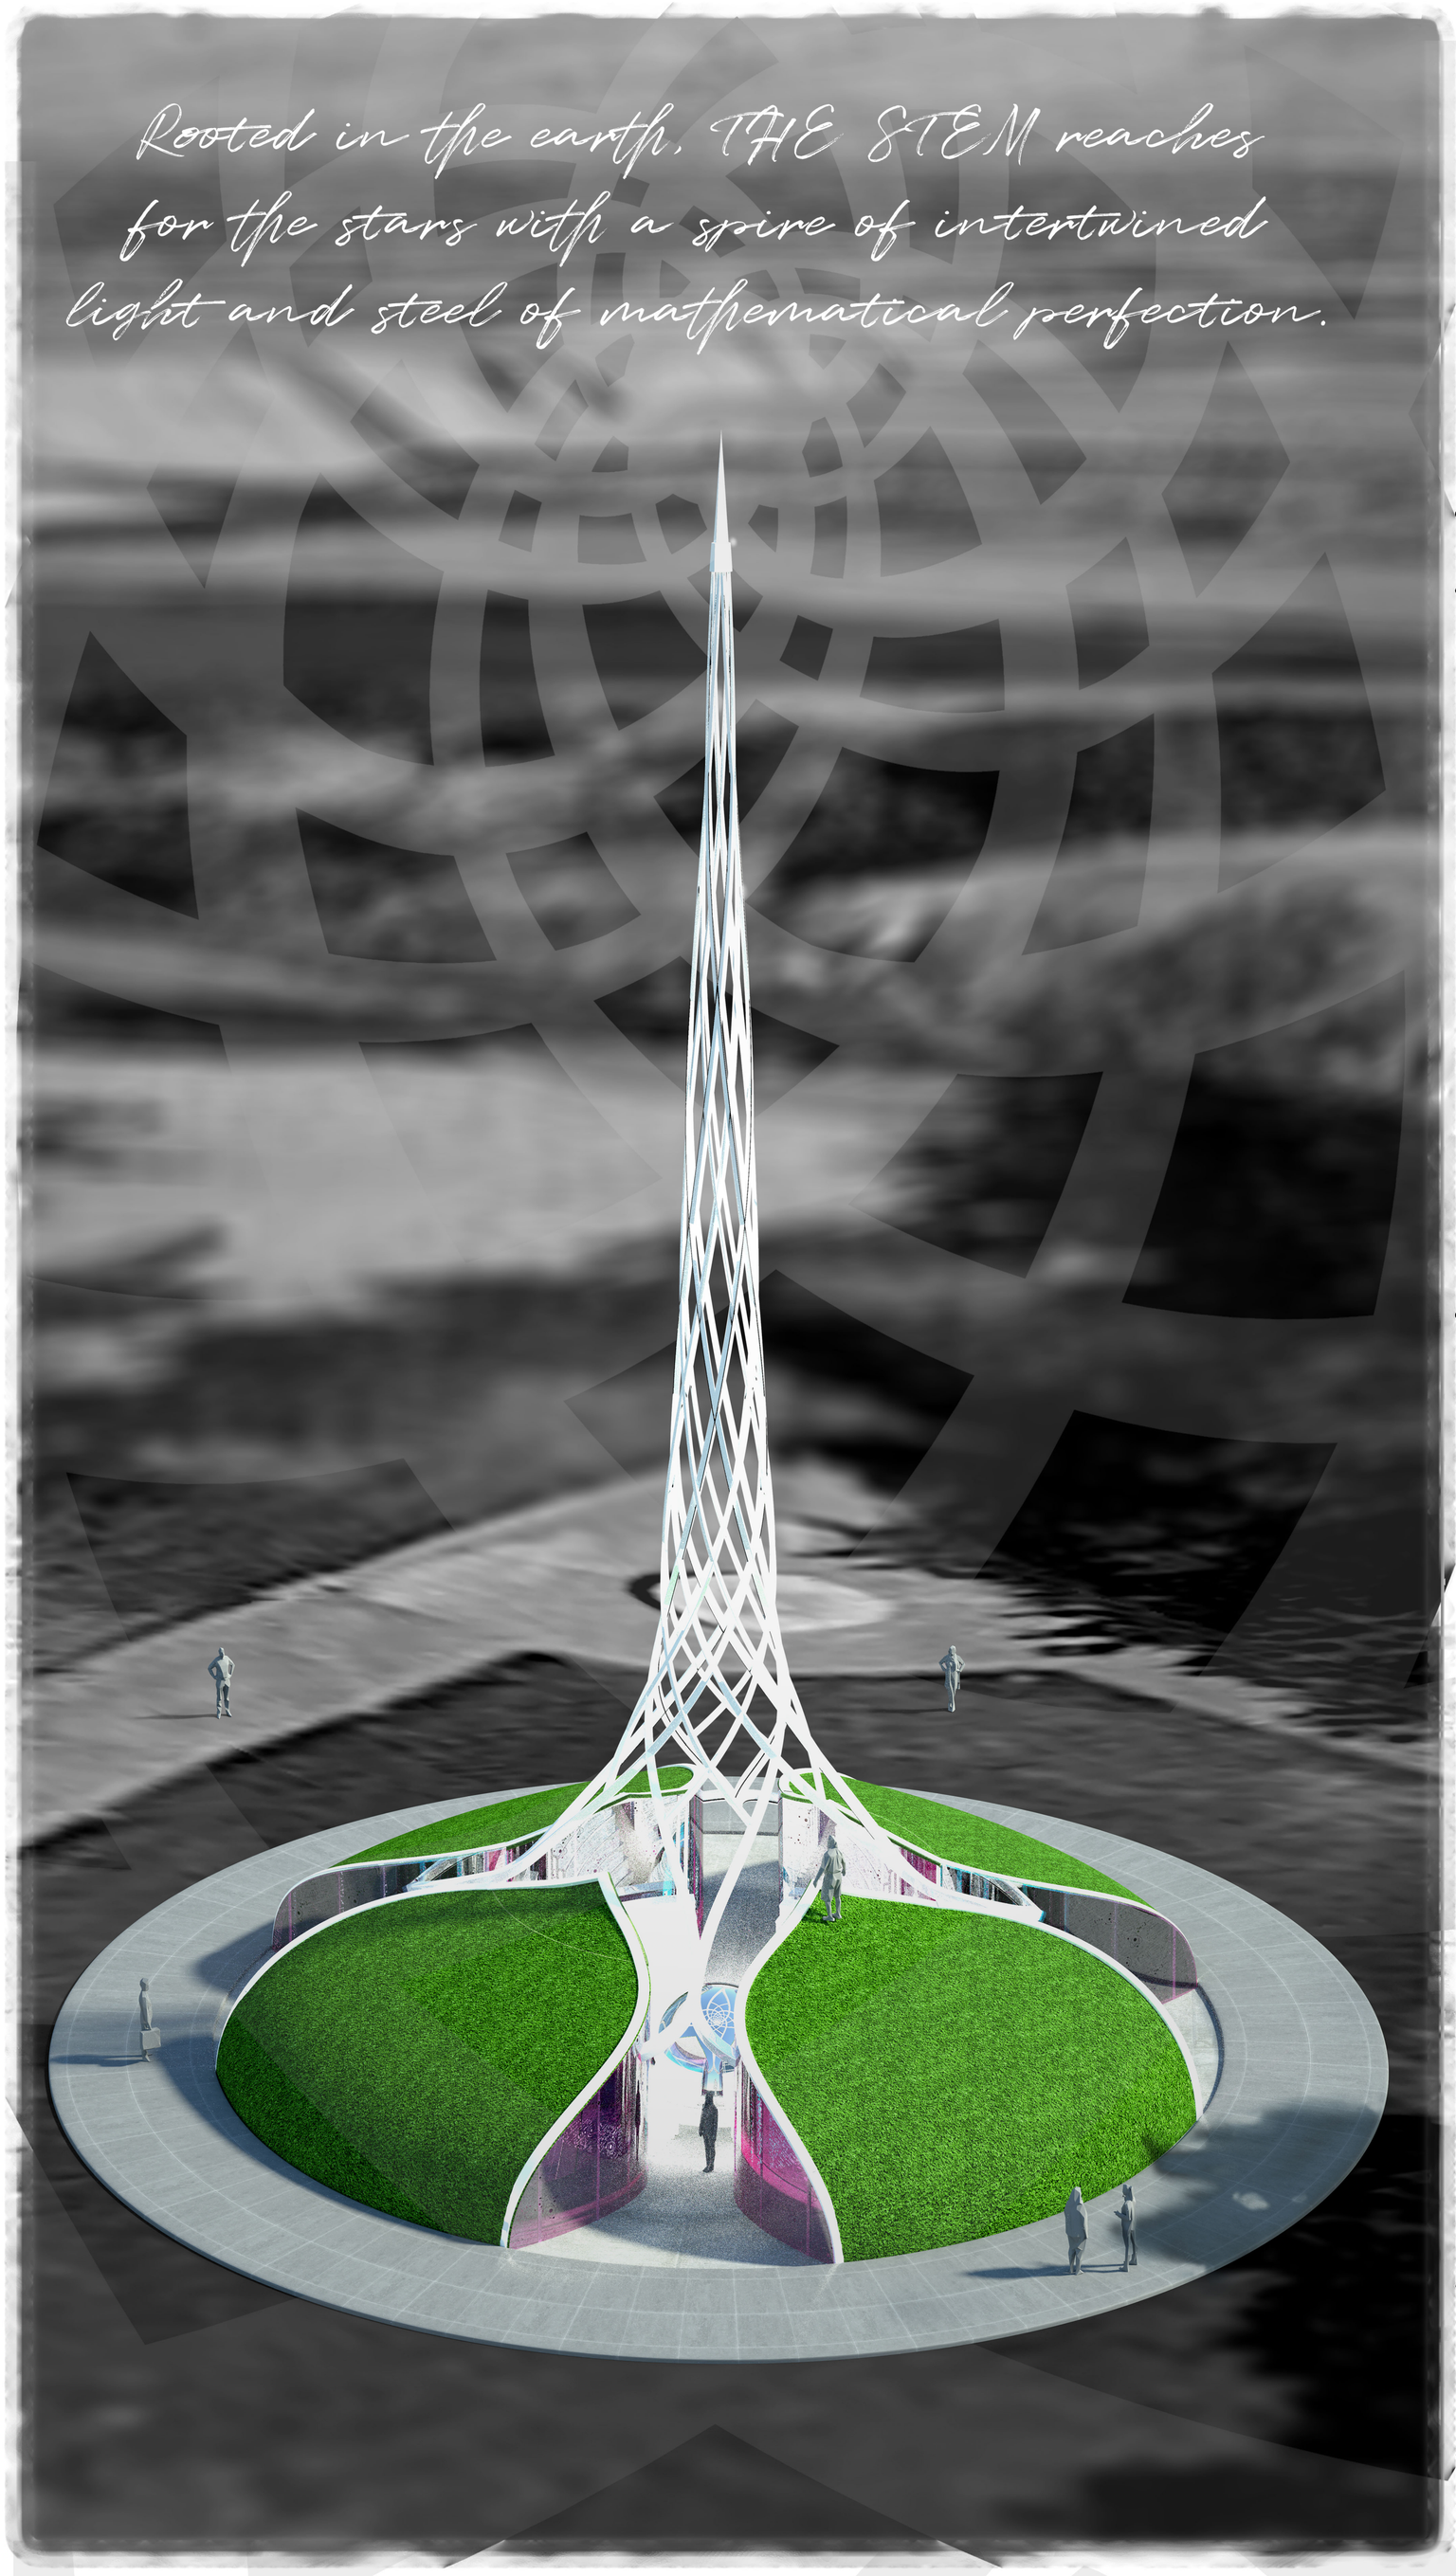
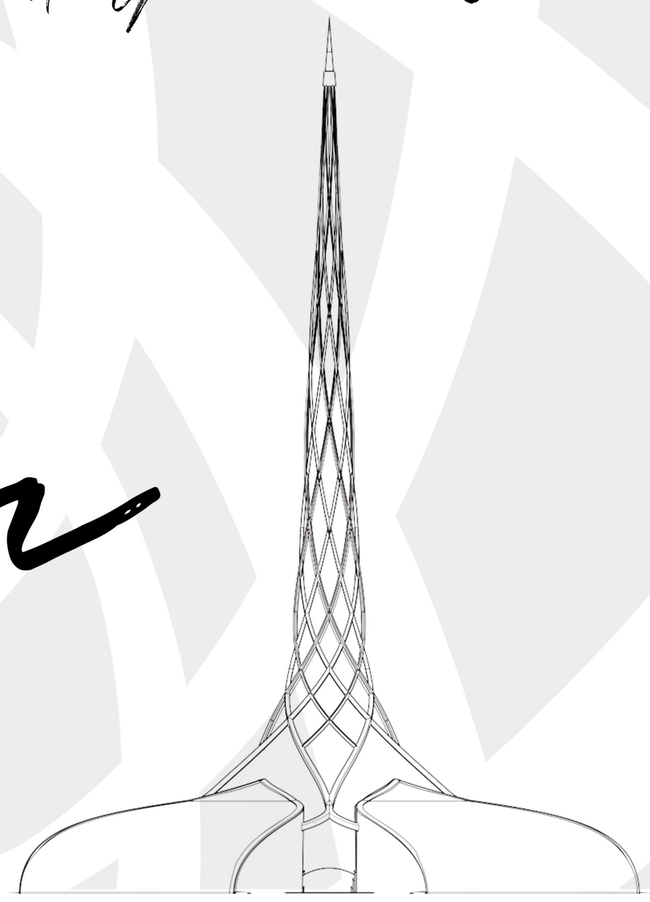
Rooted in the earth, THE STEM reaches for the stars with a spire of intertwined light and steel of mathematical perfection.



THE STEM is a monument to science and technology, innovation, and all the people of Silicon Valley -- a palace that activates the landscape, engages the public, and celebrates creativity.

Science - Technology - Engineering - Mathematics

The Stem

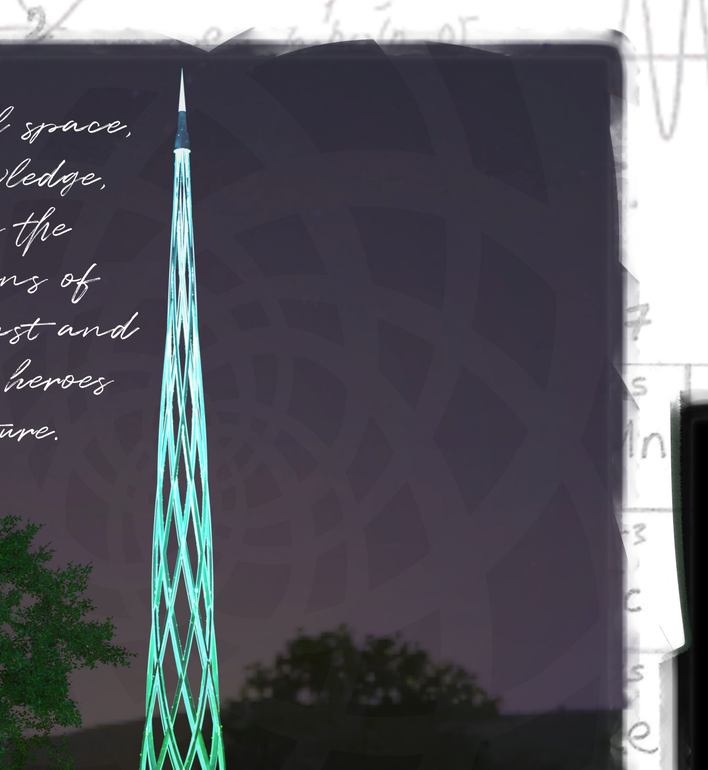


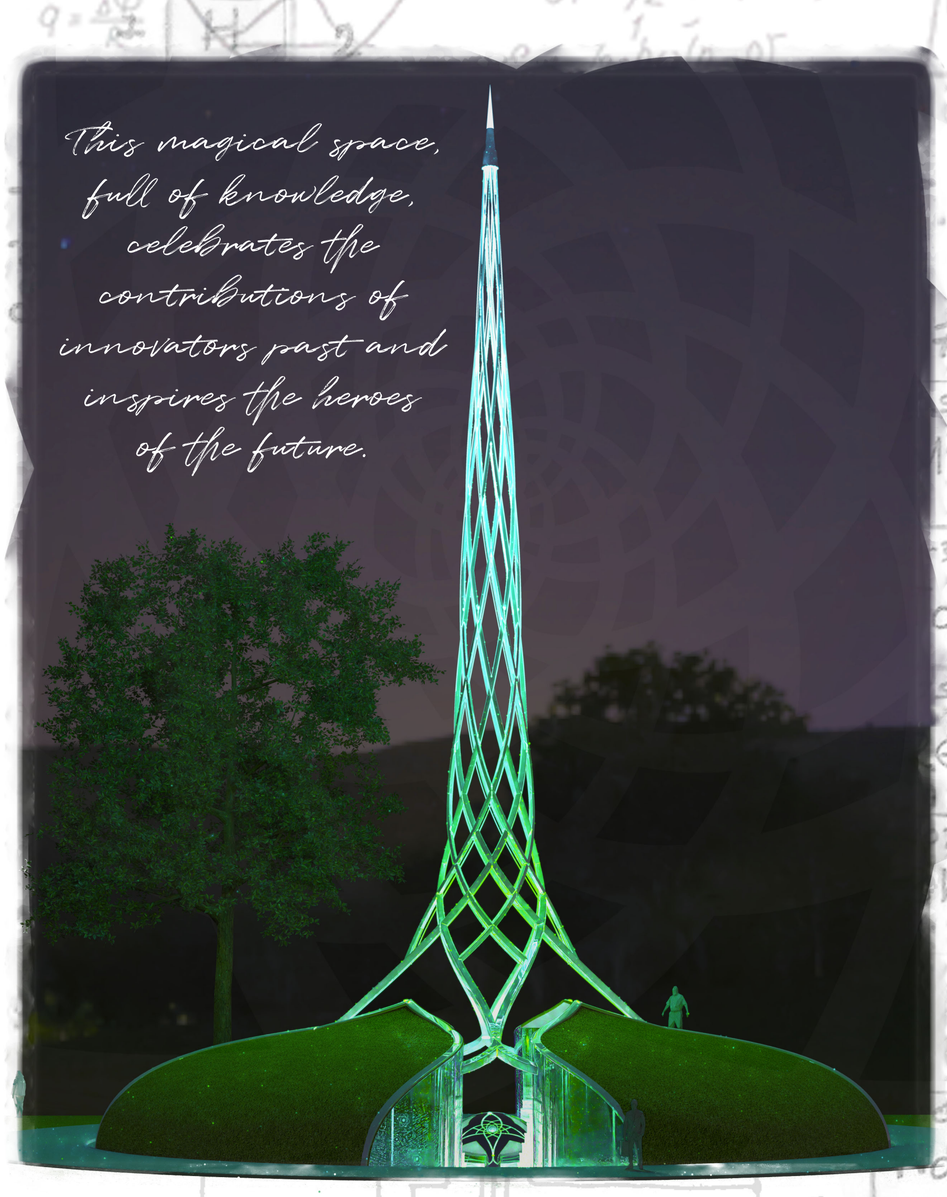
The Stem

Coliseum seating

Pause for Reflection

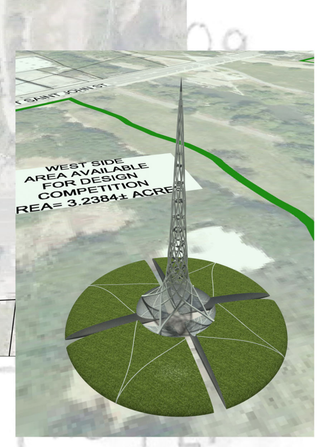
Solar panels installed to supply power





This magical space, full of knowledge, celebrates the contributions of innovators past and inspires the heroes of the future.

Dynamic Illumination



Educational Galleries