

Project Summary

The Confluence Arch is a stunning representation of the confluence of Los Gatos Creek and the Guadalupe River, as they meet in the green heart of San Jose. It depicts the flow of their waters, and the species and ecosystems they sustain. The flow of all the people and communities that create the living city as it grows around us.

A monument to coming together; to creating a sustainable city and future. From Arena Green, to San Jose, and out into all the richness and diversity of the Caltrain Corridor.

For all San Jose's generations. Past. Present. Future.
