

A wide-angle photograph of 'The Pool' art installation. A long, wooden pier extends from the right side into a large body of water. Several people are walking on the pier, and three swimmers are visible in the water. In the background, there are rolling hills and a clear blue sky with scattered clouds. The text 'THE POOL' is written vertically on the left side of the image.

