

100 Word Project Summary

The Valley is an icon for the 21st century. Made up of two mountains rising from the east and west edges of Arena Green, The Valley represents the dynamic spirit of San Jose, the rich natural environment of the region, and the opportunity for residents and visitors to come together and imagine a better future. The two peaks are the city's first major monuments to Vice Mayor Lola Williams and Mayor Janet Grey Hayes, two trailblazing women leaders who worked tirelessly for all people. Like Williams and Hayes, The Valley aims to inspire a new generation of visionaries and innovators.
