

The 200-foot tall Infinity Beacon is a monumental addition to the San Jose skyline—adding a unique new perspective to a vibrant, growing city. Part meeting place, lookout point, interactive sculpture, and community center, the Infinity Beacon and its surrounding park engage visitors both up close and from afar. The viewer can admire the lights after a game at the SAP center, travel up the elevator for an other-worldly experience, or take in the city as a whole from the observation deck.