

This project idea for this competition contains an inclined 130 feet wide bridge connecting two parts of the site.

This datum has an amalgamated program that twists in the middle where the natural landscape shifts from both sides; on the lower levels, public amphitheater and plaza add up to the quality of the surrounding park.

Accordingly, parallel to that, but on a separate diagram, creative spaces and workshops also climb.

Fish ponds and artificial mountains will be occupied by domestic animals as an oblique natural habitat. The peak reaches a height of 200 feet with an open concert hall.
