

The design presents Tale of Heart's Delight (West) and ReBooT Place (East).

Tale of Heart's Delight (homage to rural, blossom-scented Santa Clara County before Silicon Valley blasted-off) is devoted to local history. Composed of the Treetop Walk and Narrative Fountain, this experience draws upon ecology, culture, commerce, and technology.

ReBooT Place has an iconic 60ft landmark Vector Viewing Tree and Gateway. The tree has platforms from which parkgoers look upon a fountain themed either as an oversized circuit board or large-scale computer icons, both emphasizing connectivity, imagination and technology.

This property is zero net through solar power and recycled water.
