

Proposed within the Arena Green West are structures – modular yet simple in assembly – that serves as a stage for diverse activities. The structures begin as a fixed stair module. In changing events, other modules (ramps, platforms, and walkways) are aggregated around the tower to accommodate for various events. Platforms are walled with sandblasted plexiglass and integrated lighting to emphasize the projection of movement and action, transforming the structure into a theatrical and sculptural landmark. The HIVE does not aim to symbolize a fixed moment in time but to represent and accommodate the ever-changing cultural landscape and those that inhabit it.
