

Project Summary

In an increasingly uncertain and divided time, for me Unity is what keeps mankind going, to be alive and thrive. Therefore I think symbols such as this landmark beacon represent not only a wayfinding device of aesthetic and technological advancement, but equally unite us and celebrate our differences and similarities. An engaging journey of changing exhibitions through lights, sounds, feel, touch, brings a sense of excitement, pride, belonging and familiarity, together with events space, and restaurant providing usable space with commanding views. This will inspire the current, remember the past, and foster the future generation. The People's museum.
