

Project Summary

The aim of the project is to design a masterpiece that serves as the main landmark for the city of Silicon Valley. Three triangular towers are designed based on the philosophy of showing the transformation of the city through defining its identity and spirit based on the value of the past, present, and future. The structure of the towers and their location protect the existing landscape, promote net-zero energy through using sustainable strategies, and establish a strong visual presence during night and day, well-respondered to sensitive of the site in terms of lighting, pilot's perspective and its biodiversity.
