

Ensos - An immersive and transformative experience, within an equilibrium of visual form and expression. Through an expansive structure comprised of three circular walkways, my intent is to evoke notions of community, balance, aspiration, and enlightenment. In a directed experience, one would start at the bottom and progress upwards. The sensory experience of each walkway would be curated so that they would cultivate singular thoughts and sensations, while maintaining a consistency with the notion that they are stages within a larger experience.