

Convergent Horizons

Convergent Horizons reaches upward into the sky of Silicon Valley and resituates visitors to view the many horizons of the valley from a new vantage point. Consisting of an observation deck with four different viewing angles, a ground level plaza, and clad in a performative LED skin that produces all necessary energy through integrated solar panels, Convergent Horizons creates a new icon for San Jose that upholds the standards of environmental consciousness and design excellence throughout Silicon Valley.