

Capturing the spirit of innovation, the San José TechGlobe icon is designed as a uniquely “floating” artistically and aesthetically-pleasing sphere – 150 feet in diameter. Rising majestically above the ground and resting on a steel structure skybridge, the icon’s exterior skin is composed of vibrant aluminum panels of gold and green. The TechGlobe site will catalyze economic development and community vitality by both celebrating technological accomplishments and honoring social interactions in culturally and environmentally rich spaces. The TechGlobe is envisioned to become a powerful force for the San José region, and an inspirational, revolutionary icon for attracting visitors from across the world.
