

This is a design where technology and nature merge. Standing in the heart of Silicon Valley, it symbolizes the foremost technology and presents people's connection to nature. It is a complex of entertainment, exhibition spaces, dining, shopping and a roof park. The curved surface of the envelope can be back-lit with LED and filled with interactive digital arts during day or night. Whether you live here or visit, be ready to immerse yourself in technology, nature or even a virtual digital space. It is an ideal venue for exhibition, social events or just a casual walk.
