

Project Statement

San Jose has been known as the hub for future technologies since the inception of many major companies and the many other startups that have paved the future for the world today as we see it. The Nature of the people is young and eclectic and exciting the future is unknown.

Alternate speaks of infinities, the different ways to look at future and an emblem for the many more futures that will be realized from this city.

The infinity symbol serves as a design basis here where it represents the future of the city, the symbol is displayed at different angles and in different ways. Different futures in different views. Different futures for different people. The design is culturally significant in that it represents the flow of water in a fluid way. The symbol is a powerful one that can be seen and experienced from different views in the town.

One of the basis was that due to height limit the tall monument was rather bent over. The design has an element that can be configured to different colors and different views as needed. As well as projections and lightshows.
