

Project Summary

San Jose has been known as the hub for future technologies since the inception of many major companies and the many other startups that have paved the future for the world today as we see it. The Nature of the people is young and eclectic and exciting the future is unknown.

Alternate speaks of infinities, the different ways to look at future and an emblem for the many more futures that will be realized from this city.