

Talking Valley.

Silicon Valley is a unique place that attracts people from all over the world to come there with their ideas to create something new and meaningful for humanity, to make the world better, and more comfortable.

The foundation of this idea is creation. As it seems to us, the best representation of this concept is the egg. The egg is a symbol of new life, warmth and care.

As one grows up, a person learns the world. Likewise an artificial intelligence enclosed in the shape of an egg learns and settles in the society.

The object provides new opportunities for communication, through conversation, information exchange, etc. This is an innovative method of talking with the city. People have the opportunity to combine the traditional method of dating and obtaining information with the introduction of new technologies.

In modern realities, an iconic object does not have to be large. Due to the combination of form and technological content, the object can become a landmark of the Silicon Valley. It is neatly integrated into the existing landscape and does not conflict with the environment.

A solar power system is built into the egg's design, which allows the object to function autonomously and comply with the zero energy standard. Also, the object is an indicator of the environmental situation in the valley and can collect and process statistical data.

Discover and make the world a better place, together.