

There are two parts to the design project that will drastically elevate the city of San Jose; the waterfall bridge and the artistic box. The artistic box's goal is to provide the location with an everchanging display of art while the waterfall bridge aims to provide a brilliant perspective to this art. Whether it be a day out with the kids, a romantic evening, or simply a daily jog, this design provides something enjoyable for all people.