

Project Summary

The inspiration behind the form and concept of Ring Light originated from a spinning silicon chip. The silicon chip is not only a symbolic product of Silicon Valley, but also an interpretation of Silicon Valley's history and present.

When a computer chip is working, the contributions from numerous transistors are indispensable, just like the continuous development and progression of Silicon Valley is a consequence of unremitting efforts and innovative spirits from diverse groups of people.

This ring (circle) form is also a symbol of solidarity, infinite creative spirit, and unmatched leadership.
