

Submission - Urban Confluence Silicon Valley

Project Summary

Title of the submitted work: The Enchanting Lake

The Enchanting Lake is located at the west side of the public park near San Jose, a floating emerald plexiglass sculpture onto a circular artificial lake. The sculpture is using natural forces to float itself and enlighten its surrounding environment during the day & night, respecting the nearby natural habitat and civil spaces. The lake itself aims for being the natural 'enchanted' hub inviting all habitants and visitors of San Jose at all times of the day, while enjoying a different view and mode of the sculpture, as it changes based on air forces, sun light and time of the day. The design is inspired by mathematics. A constant 'scanning' of the environment for new ideas & innovation. Beauty & instability are fundamental pieces of The Enchanting Lake. An endless evolving game, a dancing presence on the water, becoming one experience, calling for life; gathering nature and humans, to celebrate the 'enchanted scene'.