

SPARK | Project Summary

Named for the resilient and innovative spirit of San José, SPARK is the park within the Park – a stunning revival of the confluence of Los Gatos Creek and the Guadalupe River that reignites community connection to the River while creating an active, daily-programmed civic space for people and wildlife. Nested in the park, Line of Light celebrates the genius loci: a place where sky, land, city, and water come together. The sculpture's vertical faceted reflective surface collages its surroundings as it reflects the changing sky, passersby, and airplanes, and commemorates the timelessness of human connection to each other and nature.
