

Urban Confluence Design Statement

Our landmark is based on the idea of Silicon Valley GIVING BACK,

Serving as a learning center for technology, sustainability, and history of the region.

While being one of the wealthiest areas in the world Silicon Valley's Industries are taking enormous amounts of resources from the planet to produce their products.

Symbolizing technological advances our photoluminescent fabric structure charges during the day and gives light back at night, referencing the historic light tower which was burning fossil fuels.

We sited the tower at the property's perimeter to restore as much of the native riparian landscape as possible
