

Neuronal Urban Park

We propose the abstraction of a neuron, as a sign of the human intelligence found in San José, which allows us to explore the limits of our mind's possibilities. These neurons can be occupied and inhabited by citizens as they have the most diverse uses and are communicated between them in order to create a network. A new park that pays tribute to human intelligence, in direct relationship with nature, coexisting and complementing it in a unique and beautiful way.

In this case the existing nature will be respected and we will build in the empty spaces
